FRANKLIN & SONS TIMELINE

1886

Franklin & Brothers began their journey by selling mineral waters from a confectionery shop in Rickmansworth.

1890

The bottles were produced in returnable glass, stoneware and soda siphons made by the largest manufacturer in Britain.

1898

After the founding brothers moved out the business, Fredrick II kept the family business alive and renamed it to Franklin & Sons.

1901

The second generation of family members began operating the business, William Harvey and Elizabeth Franklin with Frederick II.

1910

Their horses were not only used to sell drinks but also to help the local fire brigade, as many members of the family were firefighters.

1989

Sadly, the Mill was bought by a famous retail chain, despite being a successful brand Franklin & Sons were forced to cease trading.

1960

Continuing to grow, more land and a car park were added to the Mill, giving the growing number of team members.

1955

The first non-family member; William Chapman joined as Managing Director as Frederick and James Franklin retired.

1935

The range was extended as they began wholesaling cider, Bulmers and Coca Cola. Franklin & Sons outlasted all their local competitors.

1930

Taking inspiration from Americans, Franklin & Sons introduce new innovative flavours such as Cherryade, Lime Crush and Cream Soda.

1928

An additional building on Rickmansworth High Street needed to be purchased as the business continued to expand.

2015

Global Brands brought Franklin & Sons back to life and gave them a modern new bottle but always stuck to the family's pioneering roots with the introduction of innovative flavours and products. This is now the brand you know today.
